

MEMORANDUM FOR: Colonel White

12 August 1953

1. The attached report from PAPS, in my opinion, tends to be a self-serving document. However, certain facts can be culled from the narrative.

2. There are a total of [] requiring administrative plans under 9.4. At this time 65 have no plans. [] points out that present rate of production is 10 plans per month, equally divided between old and new projects. Applying these factors, it will be 13 months before PAPS is up to date on all projects. This, of course, assumes no increased workload by virtue of reviewing periodically old plans.

3. This picture seems somewhat bleak particularly since I believe some type of review function should be performed by PAPS. If you wish, I will discuss this matter with [] with a view of his making specific recommendations concerning possible solutions.
